9503WP000300000

The Fingersaver is an indispensable assembly and disassembly tool that protects fingers and hands from injuries.

The product consists of a premium quality, highly robust plastic sheath, a rubber tensioner and a strap made of safety belt material [as used in motor vehicles]. It is sturdy but light-weight, and extremely easy to handle. When used correctly, it is highly unlikely that the user could injure himself on the Fingersaver, that machinery or systems could be compromised in any way, or that its use could result in sparking in explosive environments.
